

Celebrate the 10th Anniversary of V-Day

2008 marks the 10th anniversary of the V-Day movement, a global campaign to stop violence against women and girls. Sydney readers might like to check out the special benefit performance of Eve Ensler's funny, moving and life-affirming play THE VAGINA MONOLOGUES that will be held at the Parade Theatre NIDA, Anzac Parade, Kensington on Sunday 29 June @ 5pm. For details read here

Proceeds from V-Day Sydney will be donated to the NSW Women's Refuge Network, with a small percentage being donated to the international V-Day Spotlight which is 2008 is Women of New Orleans and The Gulf South Katrina Warriors. Visit the website for more information: www.vday.org

Producer Rosie Lalevich has lined up a great selection of performers who are donating their time and talent for V-Day Sydney THE VAGINA MONOLOGUES.

The cast of 20 includes award-winning actors Noni Hazlehurst, Pamela Rabe and Jacki Weaver; popular Home and Away regulars Jessica Tovey and Lyn Collingwood; Billy Elliot cast member Genevieve Lemon; radio personality Amanda Keller, and Fran Kelly (journalist and presenter of ABC Radio National breakfast).

Julia Zemiro, the effervescent host of SBSTV's cult favourite Rockwiz, will be MC for the night and music will be provided by Ophelia of the Spirits.

V-Day Sydney 2008 is proud to have the support of a number of prominent women as its Patrons: Eva Cox, Anne Summers, Emily McGuire, Dr Leslie Laing and Margaret Cunneen SC have all willingly offered their help to promote this important community event.

Tickets are $65/$45 and on sale now through Ticketek www.ticketek.com.au .

Join us as we celebrate women, raise awareness and envision a world without violence.